Hong Kong interpretation of Chinese Communist intervention in Korea and other areas is as follows:

- a. Communist troops entered Korea on orders from Moscow. Their main objective is to tie down U.S. troops and weaken U.S. global strategy.
- b. MAO Tse-tung is unwilling to become a Tito and obeys the Kremlin.
- c. Peiping is unable to understand the Western viewpoint and is unwilling to try; therefore, further explanations or protests will be disregarded, and appeasement by the West would only make Peiping more arrogant and abusive.
- d. Communist aid to the Viet Minh and invasion of Tibet are a part of Soviet strategy for world revolution.
- e. Peiping needs fresh military ventures in order to make the people forget the present heavy taxation. However, if these ventures are pushed, they may prove disastrous to the Communists.
